The Restoration of all Things is an autobiographical record that reveals Mike Parsons' journey towards the belief that 'restoration of all things' really does mean all things which Jesus created: The restoration of a Father and son relationship. The restoration of identity and sonship. The restoration of responsibility for the freedom of creation from its bondage to corruption. The restoration of all creation. Mike Parsons has followed the sound of heaven calling him to discover his identity and take his place as a son of God, seated in the heavenly places. This is a journey that has taken him from operating as a left-brained analytical scientist to mentoring others in the mystical realms and dimensions of God; a journey that has created a passion to answer creation's groaning as a revealed son of God and participate in the restoration of all things.

Historically, the book of Exodus treats of the deliverance of Israel from Egypt; but viewed doctrinally, it deals with redemption. Just as the first book of the Bible teaches that God elects unto salvation, so the second instructs us how God saves, namely, by redemption. Redemption, then, is the dominant subject of Exodus. Following this, we are shown what we are redeemed for—worship, and this characterizes Leviticus, where we learn of the holy requirements of God and the gracious provisions He has made to meet these. In Numbers we have the walk and warfare of the wilderness, where we have a typical representation of our experiences as we pass through this scene of sin and trial—our repeated and excuseless failures, and God's long-sufferance and faithfulness.

According to Webster's dictionary a crisis is a “decisive moment or an unstable or crucial time or state of affairs” in history. It is fashionable to suggest the early 21st century is a time of crisis. We are told by our leadership that crisis is on every hand. Indeed, when crisis does not materialize as quickly or as violently as one might expect, it seems civil leadership is not averse to creating “crisis.” However, we are in the midst of crisis. The situation we face today is not economic, environmental, political or sociological. Instead, it is a crisis of leadership at the most elementary level. It is a crisis requiring a dramatic cultural shift in order to correct the course of history. As things now stand we are headed for disaster. Indeed, we are experiencing the slow unfolding of disaster all around us even today.

There is an appetite for God. And it can be awakened. I invite you to turn from the dulling effects of food and the dangers of idolatry, and to say with some simple fast: "This much, O God, I want you." Our appetites dictate the direction of our lives - whether it be the cravings of our stomachs, the passionate desire for possessions or power, or the longings of our spirits for God. But for the Christian, the hunger for anything besides God can be an arch-enemy. While our hunger for God - and Him alone - is the only thing that will bring victory. Do you have that hunger for Him? As John Piper puts it: "If we don't feel strong desires for the manifestation of the glory of God, it is not because you have drunk deeply and are satisfied. It is because we have nibbled so long at the table of the world. Our soul is stuffed with small things, and there is no room for the great." If we are full of what the world offers, then perhaps a fast might express, or even increase, our soul's appetite for God. Between the dangers of self-denial and self-indulgence is this path of pleasant pain called fasting. It is the path John Piper invites you to travel in this book. For when God is the supreme hunger of your heart, He will be supreme in everything. And when you are most satisfied in Him, He will be most glorified in you.

In a world that views absolute truth, right and wrong, and salvation as being subject to individual interpretation, the Bible's unwavering proclamations and miraculous stories seem obsolete in modern times. But it is not God's Word that has changed. Indeed, its relevancy and its power to transform lives are intact. What has changed is the number of people who consult it. Now more than ever the need to read the Bible, to understand the big picture of its storyline, and to grasp the relevance this has for your life is critical. As with its companion volume, For the Love of God-Volume 2, this devotional contains a systematic 365-day plan, based on the M'Cheyne Bible-reading schedule, that will in the course of a year guide you through the New Testament and Psalms twice and the rest of the Old Testament once. In an effort to help preserve biblical thinking and living, D. A. Carson has also written thought-provoking comments and reflections regarding each day's scriptural passages. And, most uniquely, he offers you perspective that places each reading into the larger framework of history and God's eternal plan to deepen your understanding of his sovereignty-and the unity and power of his Word.

For the past sixty years, the Pentecostal and Charismatic movement has played a major role in Zambia. In this book, Naar Mfundisi-Holloway explains the history of this development and its impact on civic engagement. She opens a discussion on church-state relations and explains how the church presented a channel of hope in the wake of the HIV/AIDS pandemic, despite having a history that eschewed civic engagement. In fact, the pandemic propelled the church to work alongside the state in the fight against the disease. Using interviews and historical analysis, this book provides valuable insight into how Pentecostal and Charismatic churches have effectively engaged matters of civic concern in Zambia dating from colonial times.

Throughout biblical history, God's people have experienced transitions that challenged their current state and pointed toward a future that wanted to happen in the eternal purposes of God. The nascent 21st century is just such a time. Tectonic cultural shifts are creating tsunamis of uncertainty and disillusionment that strain our institutions, expose our divisions, and test the Church's readiness to lead. Always, such breakpoints demand a revived focus and renewed dedication to the truth--in our case, a devotion to the ancient and unchanging truths upon which Christ built His Church. As was true at previous junctures, the current transition is revealing a vanguard company of men and women who, amid upheaval and disorientation, understand the times and know what to do (1 Chron. 12:32). In Dead Prophets Society, Dr. Mark Chironna speaks to the legacy of Issachar and its place in the 21st-century Church. Methodically and scripturally, he describes how modern sons and daughters of Issachar will do what Issachar has always done: arise to the high call of God, labor on the living edge of what He is doing, and serve as His instrument of recovery and restoration, His vital, authentic, and overcoming Church.

Looks at the principles of health, wealth, and prosperity practiced by the Jewish people in the Bible and how to apply these ideas to one's life. This time in history is unparalleled. The need to determine the seasons and times is at an all-time high. We need the Issachar gift today. Apostle Cox has put together this book for aspiring Issachar gifted prophets. "The Soul of The Issachar Seer," is a step by step process that stresses the soul development of the soul of the seer. Our soul is the key. Apostle Cox connects us with the opportunity of the now day generation Issachar prophet. "The Soul of the Issachar," will open you up to the possibilities and allow you to become a valued vessel of God. Apostle Cox is known for his prophetic teachings on several social media platforms and various prophetic empowerment meetings such as schools, conferences, and revivals.

The mighty men of Israel have fallen in a great slaughter against Philistines during a battle at Mount Gilboa. Their King Saul, along with his three sons and thousands of Israel soldiers have been brutally killed. Their bodies will be desecrated and stripped of weapons and any other adornment. Saul's head and armor is sent throughout the Philistine kingdom as a gruesome trophy of their victory over Israel. His skull is mounted in the temple of Dagon as a glorious symbol of victory for their pagan god. Israel is in great turmoil. The house of Judah prepares to make David king over them while the house of Benjamin remain loyal to the house of Saul. Saul's only remaining son Ish-bosheth is appointed king over Israel by Abner, a senior commander in his father's army. This rift plunges Israel into a civil war, as the Kingdom of Israel is divided between David, and the unfortunate Ish-bosheth, whose reign is short lived. The nation is in desperate need of true wisdom and divine guidance. And so, according to the prophetic word of their father Jacob, along come the sons of Issachar! It is during this sensitive and pivotal time in the history of God's chosen nation, that God causes the Sons of Issachar to step forward, to exercise unmatched wisdom and influence in knowing what 'Israel ought to do'. David has weapons and warriors aplenty, but it is not until the Tribe of Issachar comes on board, that the establishment of a unified and peaceful Kingdom becomes a reality. It is Issachar's influence, coupled with the prophetic discernment of times and seasons that will become David's greatest weapon. In this prophetic time, I believe that God is still raising Issachars who are operating under the unction and anointing of the Holy Spirit to release wisdom and accurate understanding of times and seasons. It is they who carry the strategies to establish His Kingdom in every sphere of life, across society and nations. They are graced to navigate with skill and grace through seasons of turmoil and uncertainty, and to bring forth success, fruitfulness and glory. This book is a systematic unpacking of the variations of times and seasons in the lives of individuals, communities, ministries, and even business. You will also be inspired and empowered by a remarkable journey into the life and prophetic gifts of the mystery tribe of Issachar.

Issachar was one of the twelve tribes of Israel. They had understanding of the times and seasons. They were very sensitive to know things in the spirit. Some people say that they studied science and knew a lot of natural things but I don't agree with that interpretation. I believe they were a very spiritual people, sensitive to God's direction. They had some insight into things because of their sensitivity to God. The word "Issachar" means reward, compensation, benefit, salary. They were people whose lifestyle rewarded others. Your sensitivity to God is compensation to other Christians because you are able to know things in the Spirit, able to pick up things in the Spirit. You are a blessing and a benefit to other Christians.

Nothing is as it seems! When we look at the world in which we live and consider the seasons of life we journey through, without a kingdom perspective, we are left with a false picture of reality. In John 4 the disciples knew there were still four months until the harvest. But Jesus instructed them to "lift up their eyes and look at the fields because they were already white for harvest." Jesus spoke of the spiritual climate while the disciples were fixed on the natural. When we look up the way we understand the times we are in, our reality, changes. It is time to look up and see life from God's vantage point and allow Him to transform your seasons. Just as ..".the sons of Issachar who had understanding of the times, to know what Israel ought to do..." (1 Chronicles 12:32) Everything is as God sees!
