

The Allyn Bacon Guide To Writing

This text goes beyond traditional leadership or supervision books and assumes that teachers and principals must work as colleagues to improve teaching and learning in schools. This is the first text of its kind, written for principals and other instructional leaders to help them understand current theories of teaching and learning as well as the practical curriculum applications of these perspectives. "The greatest strength of the Woolfolk Hoy text is the focus on instruction and developing leaders devoted to nurturing learner-centered campuses and classrooms." "Dr. Steve Jenkins -- University of Texas of the Permian Basin" "This text provides my students with a base of knowledge regarding exemplary instructional strategies as well as an illustration of what constitutes good teaching." "Robert J. Supku -- Rider University" New to this edition: New Feature--A Principal's Perspective describes the experiences of an actual principal in dealing with a problem of practice related to the ideas and concepts of that particular chapter. New Point/Counterpoints have been added to each chapter to illustrate the complexity of the issues facing instructional leaders. New Research--over 200 new studies and analyses enrich the examination of the crucial topics in this text. New Coverage of NCLB--the impact of recent legislation is discussed throughout the text. New Standards Matrix connects chapter content with the ISLLC standards for easy reference. Please visit our Educational Leadership SuperSite at www.ablongman.com/edleadership for additional course materials! Grounded in current theory and research, yet practical and teachable. courses in writing, reading, critical thinking, and inquiry. Teachers and students value its clear and coherent explanations, engaging classroom activities, and flexible sequence of aims-based writing assignments that help writers produce effective, idea-rich essays in academic and civic genres. Numerous examples of student and professional writing accompany this thorough guide to the concepts and skills needed for writing, researching, and editing in college and beyond.

Grounded in current writing center theory and practice, The Allyn & Bacon Guide to Peer Tutoring provides students with a comprehensive introduction to effective tutoring. Throughout the text, readers hear the voices of tutors and writers in first-person peer tutor accounts, reflective essays, and transcripts from actual sessions. Within each chapter, techniques, models, and exercises provide instruction appropriate for any level of tutoring.

Written by two highly experienced teachers in the field of document design, Designing Visual Language, 2/e offers useful strategies and tools for document design of all types. A chief goal of the text is to enable students to extend the rhetorical approach they employ in writing and editing courses to the creation of various forms of visual communication. The text focuses on the kinds of situations and practical documents that occur in the workplace and blends this focus with a rhetorical approach that ties design to the audience, purpose, and context of messages.

This brief and inexpensive book helps students compile effective portfolios for a variety of situations and courses. Shows students how to understand what type of portfolio is called for, recognize the material most appropriate for inclusion, and submit a portfolio that shows learning. This guide does not approach portfolios as the driving force of a course; rather, it teaches students who are asked to submit portfolios - with or without direct instructor supervision - how to construct successful portfolios. Anyone looking to compile a portfolio.

The second edition of this science methods text continues to lead the field with teaching practices to include our diverse population of learners. Grounded in constructivist theories of learning and research-based teaching strategies, Science in the Multicultural Classroom, Second Edition recognizes the importance of including all children, regardless of race, ethnicity, or gender, in the study of science.

Glicken (Central Michigan U.) presents a brief supplementary text to help students in the social sciences understand social research and statistics. From his experiences as a professor of social work in graduate research, the author knows research can be a challenging area for many students, so has purposely written the text to make the topic appealing and accessible to students. Though academic, the tone is conversational and entertaining, and real-world examples illustrate the concepts. Annotation copyrighted by Book News, Inc., Portland, OR.
