Will pressing the elevator button three times put it into "faster mode?" Did we break the secret elevator code? No. We all look for ways to break the "hidden codes" in our lives. Why? To better understand our world. Or maybe to discover shortcuts. It is the same when we try to understand our brains and the brains of our prospects. We wonder: - Why does my brain work against me? - What is my brain doing while I am not paying attention? - How do I break through the irrational defenses of my prospects? - What can I say to get through to prejudiced prospects? - Can I do something to change other people's minds? - How can I understand my own irrational brain? It is hard to play the game if we don't know the rules. Our brains operate in strange ways, but many of these quirks are consistent. We can learn some of these special brain rules and work with them. If we don't, we'll simply walk away muttering, "I just don't get it. Nothing makes sense." So instead of cursing the darkness, enjoy learning new and better ways to understand how we and our prospects think and act. We will smile as we learn how to deal with the 3-pound challenges inside our skulls. And the bonus? We will recognize these irrational brain rules as they play out in real life. With knowledge comes power.

difficult. Other goals feel easy to achieve. Why is this? There are many factors that can help us, or sabotage us on our way to achieving our goals. Once we understand these building blocks, we can put them to use to design goals that work for us. Building blocks? Think of them as tools that remove difficulty and enhance achievement. Look at these five common-sense ideas that help. First, humans are short-term thinkers. Our initial goals need short timelines. We also have short-term memories. Second, our initial goals should be small. We need to build our goal-achieving muscles. This will give us confidence. Third, we must understand our personality style. This is what sabotages most goals. If our goals are not in alignment with our personality, it all goes wrong fast. Fourth, do our goals match our internal core values? If not, how can we be motivated when we feel that nagging doubt? Fifth, instead of using willpower, could we put mini-habits to work instead? This would take away our mental stress. Setting goals that work for us is easy when we have guidelines and a checklist. Don't feel guilty for not achieving your goals. Instead, feel the adrenaline rush of success each time you achieve your new goals. Scroll up and order your copy of this book now.

Do you ever think you're the only one making any sense? Or tried to reason with your partner with disastrous results? Do long, rambling answers drive you crazy? Or does your colleague's abrasive manner rub you the wrong way? You are not alone. After a disastrous meeting with a highly successful entrepreneur, who was genuinely convinced he was 'surrounded by idiots', communication expert and bestselling author, Thomas Erikson dedicated himself to understanding how people function and why we often struggle to connect with certain types of people. Surrounded by Idiots is an international phenomenon, selling over 1.5 million copies worldwide. It offers a simple, yet groundbreaking method for assessing the personalities of people we communicate with – in and out of the office – based on four personality types (Red, Blue, Green and Yellow), and provides insights into how we can adjust the way we speak and share information. Erikson will help you understand yourself better, hone communication and social skills, handle conflict with confidence, improve dynamics with your boss and team, and get the best out of the people you deal with and manage. He also shares simple tricks on body language, improving written communication, advice on when to back away or when to push on, and when to speak up or shut up. Packed with 'aha!' and 'oh no!' moments, Surrounded by Idiots will help you understand and communicate with those around you, even people you currently think are beyond all comprehension. And with a bit of luck you can also be confident that the idiot out there isn't you!
